Our Lifeline with a Double Lock Snap, Steel Rebar, or Aluminum Rebar Hook on one end and Crown Splice on the other is built for dependable fall protection and secure tie-off applications. The heavy-duty double lock snap hook provides added safety with a secure, locking connection to anchors or harnesses, helping prevent accidental disengagement. The crown splice end delivers a strong, durable termination that maintains rope integrity and long-term performance in demanding job site conditions. Ideal for construction, industrial, and maintenance environments, this lifeline is designed for strength, reliability and worker safety where it matters most.

Choose the right length. Choose the right hook. Get the control you need.
